“MGM College holds a special place in my heart as it has provided a much-needed platform to grow professionally and personally and developed me into the individual I am today. Participating in competitive programming competitions like those organized by the Computer Users’ Club (CUC) and VISIOTECH enhanced my programming skills and sharpened

“Students join the college to get education. In addition to the education and degree that I got because of my Alma matter, I learned life at MGMCEN. My first life lesson learnt was Things Take Time. It has taught me to plan ahead, plan in detail and execute to the perfection. I learnt at my Alma matter that without leaving the shores the ships can't sail further. We all have sailed successfully in our lives and continued our journey, with a thought in mind that we have a port to dock at MGMCEN where we made life time friendships and learnt amazing life lessons.”

"In 1994, upon my enrollment at MGM CEN, I, like many other young individuals, harbored numerous aspirations. Initially hesitant about what lay ahead, I possessed the confidence and determination to commit myself fully to the journey. The welcoming atmosphere fostered by Principal Mrs. Geeta Lathkar and the faculty facilitated my seamless integration into college life. Surprisingly, despite the institution's emphasis on discipline, it also encouraged us to explore new avenues, question conventional norms, and engage in open discussions. Reflecting back, this environment proved pivotal and served as the cornerstone of my college experience.

From organizing a fashion show in the first year to participating in the Latur plague survey, establishing the IBM Computer Lab, contributing to a Mountaineering expedition that we funded through a public concert featuring Shri Hridaynath Mangeshkar, being a member of the college football team, witnessing the Leonid meteor shower in 1996, and achieving the title of Mr. MGM — the list is extensive. Each of these endeavors nurtured my curiosity, independence, decision-making skills, and leadership qualities.

The Chairman Sir, Principal Ma'am, dedicated faculty, and fellow students, both senior and junior, played an integral role in my personal development and have greatly influenced the individual I have become. I will forever remain grateful to my alma mater for shaping me into the person I am today."
